law

Mr Potts is one of the local legal fraternity's most well-known and flamboyant characters and has left his mark on the Coast since arriving from Melbourne in 1981. He is the director of new firm Potts Lawyers, which he founded in January following the dissolution of the Gold Coast's oldest law firm, Price and Roobottom. As head of the Coast's largest criminal law firm, he has spent the year taking part in several high-profile cases and retains a high level of respect in the community with his quick wit and sharp skills. In December, he is set to expand his practice and open a second Potts Lawyers office in Brisbane.
